

REPUBLICAN BUGLE BLAST.

PARTY ON VERGE OF BIG CRISIS

It Can Only Be Averted by an Organized Effort.

ISSUE AN ADDRESS

Stalwarts Open the Attack on La Follette and His Administration.

SPOONER THEIR MAN

The Wisconsin Republican League yesterday issued its statement of principles and objects. It is a ringing address that will appeal strongly to the voters of the state. The statement is signed exclusively by members of the legislature of 1901.

Object of the League
The Wisconsin Republican League has for its object the unification and preservation of the republican party of Wisconsin, and it has been organized upon a basis sufficiently comprehensive and lasting to accomplish that object. Its founders are members of the legislature of 1901, whose close touch with the affairs of the state has enabled them to see and apprehend dangers which threaten the republican party, and it is an exceedingly significant fact that a majority of the republican members of each house have endorsed its purposes.

The League is not a temporary organization for the purposes of a single campaign, but is to be a permanent institution which having first unified the party will labor from year to year to keep it united against the common enemy.

Dominated by no Individual
The League will not be dominated by any individual; it will not attempt to dictate to the party or the people; it will have no pet measures of doubtful wisdom to be advanced for its own interests; it will not indulge in political trickery beneath the mask of reform; it will keep its promises in letter and in spirit; there will be neither secrecy nor hypocrisy about its work; it will stand before the world for what it is, and it will live and labor to maintain republican principles and perfect a permanent organization in Wisconsin.

Majority of Both Houses
During the last session the legislature was made up of thirty-one republicans and two democrats. Since the legislature adjourned two republican senators, Messrs. Fearnie and Stebbins, have died, so that at present fifteen republican senators constitute a majority of the party's representation in that body, while sixteen is a majority of the republican senators-elect. In view of these facts it is important to note that the statement is signed by eighteen republican members of the senate, or three more than a clear majority of the republicans in that body.

In the last assembly there were eighty-one republicans and nineteen democrats. Forty-one members therefore, constitute a majority of the republicans in the assembly and the names of forty-one republican assemblymen are affixed to this declaration.

Thus it will be seen that the statement bears the signatures of a clear majority of the republican members of each house of the Wisconsin legislature and a substantial majority of the combined republican membership of its two branches. These men represent a majority of the republican voters of Wisconsin. They have been in contact with the republicans of the state during the three months that have elapsed since the adjournment of the legislature and in that time have had abundant opportunity to learn the feelings of their constituents.

Organization is Necessary.

Now, with a full understanding of the wishes of the republican rank and file in their districts and of public sentiment throughout the state, which has crystallized in the meantime, they have voluntarily come and signed their names to this document, because their knowledge of the situation enables them to see that an organization of this nature is necessary for the welfare of the republican party in Wisconsin.

Although a majority of the signers were opposed to the Stevens primary election bill at the last session of the legislature, it is a notable fact that many republican members who favored the bill have now joined with them in attaching their signatures to this statement.

Among the senators whose names are subscribed to the document are the oldest and ablest members of that dignified body. The reputation and standing of these men are such as to make detailed mention of the individuals entirely superfluous.

Surprises Furnished by the List
Several surprises are furnished by the list of assemblymen who have signed the statement as it contains the names of many men who are supposed to be in full accord with the state administration. Chief among these is Speaker George H. Ray of La Crosse, who voted with the administration forces all through the last session, even after he had come to some doubts about proposed legislation and notwithstanding the fact that a large majority of his constituents were opposed to the chief administration measure. Mr. Ray is regarded as one of the most conservative, upright and conscientious men in the legislature. His act in signing the declaration will be accepted by all who know him as proof positive of the danger which threatens the party and which this organization has undertaken to avert.

Associated with Mr. Ray is Fred J. Frost of Portage county, also an able and conscientious member of the assembly who voted with the state administration. Among the other signers who voted for the primary election bill are John H. Young of Eau Claire, Edward A. Miller, of Jackson county, Eben R. Jones of Monroe county and George P. Rossman of Ashland county.

All Support Senator Spooner

in connection with the publication of the statement is the fact that every man who signed it is in favor of the re-election of John C. Spooner to the United States senate.

DON KILLS HIS CHILD WIFE.

Cause of Murder of Bride by Arizona Cattle King a Mystery.

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 19.—A sensational murder, for which no cause appears, took place near Safford, at a large cattle ranch, where Don Jesus Valencia, a cattle king, who lately came from Spain, fatally stabbed his child wife, whose maiden name was Senorita Tulita Garcia. The murdered woman was the daughter of a respected Mexican cattleman in this territory, who received the Spaniard with open arms when he came to Arizona, despite the expostulations of his wife and American friends, who were possessed of a traditional hatred for Spaniards and especially for this one, who boasted blue blood. Valencia bought a hacienda and won the affection of the pretty 17-year-old girl and the two were married a few days ago. They planned an extensive honeymoon trip and invited the sonorita's parents to go with them. The wife's parents were sleeping in a room adjoining that in which the tragedy took place. Soon after retiring the shrieks of the girl alarmed her father, who, rushing to the room, saw Valencia holding the lifeless form of his daughter in his arms and stabbing the body repeatedly. The don has escaped.

GEN. MAC ARTHUR IN SAN FRANCISCO

Says the War Has Hurt the Islands—Whole Districts Are Laid in Waste.

San Francisco, August 19.—"War has wrecked the Philippines and laid waste whole districts. The people in many districts have relapsed into barbarism. The best conditions prevail in Northern Luzon. You may say that the whole territory is pacified but not tranquilized, but it will not be many months before law and order will be observed everywhere."

So said Major General MacArthur, former governor general of the archipelago, who reached this port yesterday on the transport Sheridan from Manila.

"While the conditions are not perfect," he continued, "they are gratifying. A few groups of armed insurgents are still at large, but they will soon surrender, as their power is broken and they are not being aided by the natives. These natives have come to see that surrender does not mean death, and they are coming in every week with their rifles."

Beyond a slight loss in flesh, General MacArthur looks as he did when he left this city three years ago. He had practically no illness during his stay in the Philippines, and boasts of being able to perform his regular duties every day during that time.

As soon as quarantine was raised on the Sheridan, the Slocum drew alongside and S. M. Green of Milwaukee boarded the transport. He came from his city as the representative of its citizens to present an invitation to General MacArthur to visit Milwaukee, which was formerly his home. The invitation comes direct from the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, and is in the form of a beautiful booklet in water colors and engraved wording bound in leather and enclosed in a handsome wood box. Mr. Green made the presentation speech in a few words and was heartily thanked by General MacArthur.

GEORGE BISHOP HAS RESIGNED

Madison, Wis., August 19.—(Special.)—George W. Bishop, member of the state board of control, sent his resignation to Governor LaFollette Saturday afternoon asking that it be accepted at once. Demands of private business on his time were given as his reason for resigning. Mr. Bishop is the editor and proprietor of the New North, at Rhinelander, and has interests in a land company and other enterprises. His term as a member of the board of control does not expire until the 15th of next April.

In politics Mr. Bishop has been identified with the "stalwart" republicans, but neither personally nor through his paper has he taken any part in the fight being made on Governor LaFollette.

Three Killed, Eleven Injured.
Youngstown, O., Aug. 19.—An explosion of ten tons of molten metal in the blast furnace department at the Ohio plant of the National Steel company resulted in the death of three workmen and in the injury of eleven others. The dead are: Joseph Bugos, John Crinkshank, Richard Richards. Two of the injured men are in a dying condition and at least six others are not expected to survive. The accident was the result of machinery, which controlled the ladle containing the molten mass, breaking and letting the metal drop into a vat containing water.

STEAMER SUNK BY AN ICEBERG

From 50 to 80 Lives Lost by Wreck of Alaska Vessel.

FIFTY DEAD FOUND

A Point Off Douglas Island the Scene of the Dreadful Disaster.

GOLD ON THE BOAT

Victoria, B. C., August 19.—With every hour the list of the known victims of the steamer Islander disaster, of Douglas island, Alaska grows. Up to eight o'clock this morning the names of fifty dead had been secured and it is not unlikely that thirty or more additional will be added to the list when the pursuer of the ill-fated vessel arrives.

The best detailed account says there were 125 passengers, a crew of sixty-one and about twelve stow-aways on board. All went well until three o'clock on Thursday morning when a submerged ice-berg was struck. The pilot immediately urged the captain to beach the vessel but the captain thought this was too dangerous. Then the first-mate ordered the life boats manned, but the captain, it is said, thought that there was no immediate danger and so told the passengers who had rushed from the state rooms. A few moments later, however, the captain ordered the life boats manned and the passengers piled aboard, the vessel sinking rapidly and soon the boats were filled and overcrowded while many still remained on deck begging and praying for help.

List of the Dead
MRS. ROSS, wife of the governor of Yukon, her child and niece.
DR. JOHN DUNCAN, Victoria.
W. G. PRESTON and wife, Seattle.
P. W. HILL, Victoria.
W. H. KEATING and two sons, Los Angeles.
J. W. DOUGLAS, Vancouver.
MRS. PHILLIPS and child, Seattle.
MRS. NICHOLSON, wife of captain.
MRS. J. M. SMITH, Vancouver.
MRS. J. L. WILCOX, Seattle.

Among those of the crew lost are: Captain Foote, George Allen, third engineer; Horace Smith, second steward; S. Pitts, cook; two Chinamen; Buck Hooper and Barker; others; two firemen; Night Saloon Watchman Kendall; Joe Bard, second pantryman; two waiters; G. Miller, barber; N. Law, M. P. Jock, Porter and Moran, coal passers.

There was $275,000 in gold on the steamer, $100,000 of which was carried by the passengers. H. H. Hart, who has spent sixteen years in the Klondike, lost $35,000 in dust.

STEAMER STRIKES ICEBERG

Many Lives Lost on a Point Off Douglas Island, Alaska.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 19.—The steamer Islander, the crack Alaskan vessel of the Canadian Pacific Navigation company, was wrecked on Thursday last at 2 a. m. by striking an iceberg off Douglas island and sixty-five were drowned. An extra of the Juneau Dispatch of Juneau says: Word of the disaster reached Treadwell at 8:30 a. m. by a party of passengers headed by the chief engineer, who walked up the beach a distance of 25 miles to appeal to the city for help. The Treadwell steamers Lucy and Jenniker and the Juneau steamer Flossie arrived in from the scene of wreck at 12 o'clock, with her flag at half-mast and six dead bodies on board, and the surviving passengers. The description of the disaster by the survivors is heart-rending. They say that the Islander struck an iceberg, and so severe was the shock that every door was jammed fast in the state-rooms, and the ill-fated passengers, numbering 107, and the crew of 71 were forced to break through the windows to reach the deck.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR FIGHT STEEL TRUST

An Effort Will Be Made Looking to a Forfeiture of Charter in New Jersey.

Washington, August 19.—The Knights of Labor and the anti-trust league have decided to fight against the steel trust in New Jersey as in this city. Proceedings will be instituted in New Jersey, where the charter of the steel trust is granted, looking to a forfeiture of the charter on the ground that the trust operates against the welfare of American citizens.

DELEGATES WILL BOARD THEMSELVES

Departure from Usual Custom at the State Sunday School Convention at Waukesha Sept. 17.

The Wisconsin State Sunday school convention will be held at Waukesha, beginning September 17 and ending two days later. It is expected that the gathering will be the largest held in years, as many men prominent in Sunday school work throughout the United States will be in attendance and will make addresses.

A departure from custom that has attracted some attention is that each delegate will be required to pay for being the guest of the entertainment committee. The large Christian Endeavor convention have adopted this plan and it has been found to work admirably. Board can be secured for one dollar per day by applying to Ernest Trakal, chairman of the entertainment committee, whose headquarters are now at Waukesha.

Negotiations are pending with the Western Passenger association and it is hoped that special rates to the convention may be obtained. The Rev. R. S. Ingraham of Waukesha, is president of the association and the Rev. E. A. Potter of Mukwonago is secretary.

CARS IN A FATAL CRASH.

Five Die in Collision of Trolley and Train.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Five persons were killed outright and more than a score were injured in a collision of a trolley car with an express train on the Pennsylvania railroad on the grade crossing in Forty-seventh street. It was caused by the motorman losing control of his electric car just when he ought to have stopped in front of the gate at the crossing. All the killed and injured were aboard the street car.

TO BRING LABORERS FROM THE SOUTH

Steel Trust Will Try to Break the Strike by That Means—The Painter Mill Starts Up.

Pittsburg, August 19.—Two hundred steel workers, many of them old employees and union men, went to work in Painters' mill this morning. It is the first serious break in the Amalgamated ranks and is regarded by some as the beginning of the end of the defeat of the Amalgamated in the East.

The American Steel Hoop company will shortly begin a resumption at all of its plants it is said. While the pickets were asleep this morning a special train brought a large number of experienced men from the South. They were escorted into the mills without molestation.

The United States Steel corporation is showing its hand in the contest with the striking workmen. It became clear today that the effort to break the strike would be by the importation of laborers from the South.

The Carnegie properties also resumed operations today without a break in the forces operating. them and this fact, joined with the promise of an early start at Monessen, leads the steel officials here to take a very hopeful view of the situation. The strikers claim that men enough to start the Monessen mills cannot be obtained and that they have not yet shown their hand at Duquesne and other Carnegie points.

MARINETTE PAPERS ARE CONSOLIDATED

Marinette, Wis., Aug. 19.—The Daily North Star, a daily and weekly republican paper, and the Argus, a semi-weekly democrat paper, was consolidated today into one newspaper, which will be called the Marinette Star. It will be a strong state administration paper. Half a dozen of the wealthiest and best known business men of the city, have organized and capitalized at $15,000. Clarence J. Noel, the former publisher of the Argus, will be the manager of the new publication and R. G. Hutchinsan will hold the position of editor-in-chief.

INCREASE IN THE PENSION ROLL; NOW 997,735 ARE ON THE LIST

Widows Receive Big Sums of Money—New Applications Keep Rolling In—Veterans Drawing Pay for Disabilities, Small Proportion of Total.

Washington, D. C., August 19.—It is more than thirty-six years since the war of the rebellion closed and a new generation of men has come upon the scene since Grant received the surrender of Lee, and yet the pension roll is larger today than ever before. Commissioner Evans has just completed his tabular statement, which will be embodied in his annual report. He shows not only that republicans are not necessarily ungrateful, but on the contrary, that this republic, at least has been made the victim of its own generosity.

Figures Are Staggering.
The figures, when properly studied, will stagger even the best friends of the old soldier. The figures are in flat defiance of all tables of life insurance statistics. The pensioners now on the rolls amount to the startling total of 997,735. In round numbers this is about one pensioner for about every seventy-five men, women and children in the United States. During the last year the net gain to the pension rolls amounted to 4,206 of these 3,849 were Spanish war pensioners, but eliminating them there is still an actual increase in the pensioners thirty-six years after the great war of the rebellion closed.

ECUADOR DRAWN INTO THE WAR

Troops Prepared to Cross the Frontier—Battle is Imminent.

TO AID VENEZUELA

Castro Sends Men to Help the Insurgents in the State of Colombia.

GENERAL WAR LIKELY

Quito, Ecuador, August 19.—A force of Ecuadorian troops is ready to invade Colombia and a battle is imminent near Pasto, just beyond the Colombian frontier, and about 150 miles northeast of Quito.

Castro Aids Colombian Rebels.
Willemstad, Island of Curacao, August 19.—President Castro of Venezuela some days ago sent to Cucuta, Colombia, ammunition, arms and men to assist in the Colombian revolution.

Emilio Fernandez, former Governor of Caracas under President Castro and subsequently administrator of customs at La Guayra, who finally declared against Castro, has left Curacao, accompanied by sixty partisans with the announced intention of invading Venezuela.

It is also reported that Segundo Rivera has also effected a landing.

Unrest in Venezuela.
Colon, Colombia, August 19.—Statements made by passengers who arrived here yesterday on the steamer Canada from Venezuelan ports clearly show that there is considerable political unrest in Venezuela.

Expects Iowa to Sail Today.
Washington, D. C., August 19.—Captain Perry of the battleship Iowa, now at San Francisco, has telegraphed to the navy department that the boilers and some other parts need immediate attention. It is hoped by the department, however, that the Iowa will be able to sail some time today.

There was a dearth of other news bearing on the Colombian-Venezuelan trouble. Secretary Hay received no dispatches bearing upon the subject. The Colombian and Venezuelan legations were similarly without advice.

FISH CAR "BADGER" IN THE CITY TODAY

Came in from Mineral Point, Where They Have Been Stocking Up Black Bass.

The Wisconsin state fish car "Badger" was in the city this morning on its way to Madison in charge of Deputy Fish Commissioner Frank Southern, and his men. The car came in this morning attached to the Mineral Point train at which place they have been stocking the streams with black bass. Five thousand were left at Mineral Point and the balance at Fort Wayne and Dodgeville. The bass are caught in the sloughs of the Mississippi near Genoa and transferred to the tanks in the car for shipment to the different points about the state where they are ordered. The car and crew will be out for a month on this trip.

Mr. Southern is of the opinion that German carp will take the place of smoked sturgeon. He is told that as a smoked fish they have no equal. He thinks, however, that they should never have been put in any ponds but those that have no inlet or outlet where other fish could not live.

ADDRESS OF THE STALWARTS.

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF WISCONSIN:
The undersigned, republican members of the legislature of 1901, are convinced that the republican party of Wisconsin is upon the verge of a crisis which can only be averted by organized effort on the part of all republicans who consider party welfare above personal ambition.

As representatives of the people we view with alarm the persistent effort to strengthen the executive at the expense of the legislative department of the state. The constitution says: "The legislative power shall be vested in senate and assembly." The propriety of our institutions depends upon the independence and integrity of each of the co-ordinate branches of our government. Neither is responsible to the other, but each is responsible to the people. Neither should subordinate the control of the executive is revolutionary and deserves prompt and emphatic rebuke. The public interest demands that among the several departments of government there be cordial and courteous cooperation.

These propositions are so fundamental that they are more vital than party success itself. Many unwarrantable inferences with the exclusive powers of the legislature and attempts to coerce acquiescence in unreasonable acts and unwise experiments at the last session were contrary to the welfare of the people of Wisconsin, and created bitter factional differences in the republican party.

The party must not permit itself to be divided, and possibly destroyed, by factional disputes. Its purposes are too high, its work too important, to be dominated for personal gain or ambition.

For these reasons we present to you the necessity of a wholesome organization, which shall truly represent the whole party and safely carry out its principles. We have not in contemplation an organization for a single campaign, but one that shall be permanent and as comprehensive as the party it represents.

In furtherance of such an organization, rooms have been leased on the eleventh floor of the H. R. man building, in Milwaukee, where all republicans will be welcome and where opportunity will be afforded to enroll in the Wisconsin Republican League.

CAUSE OF HOMELESS CHILDREN SUBJECT OF THE UNION SERVICE

Rev. Charles D. Merrill, District Secretary of the Wisconsin Children's Home Society, Spoke Last Night to a Very Large Audience.

To the cause of the homeless children of Wisconsin the union evening service, held last evening in the Baptist church, was devoted. There was a good sized audience, although the church was not filled, and the service was an interesting one.

Rev. J. T. Henderson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. W. W. Woodside, pastor of the First M. E. church, were the only local pastors present and assisted in conducting the service. Mrs. J. F. Sweeney presided at the organ and Archie Crawford led the congregational singing.

Rev. Charles D. Merrill spoke the speaker of the evening was the Rev. Charles D. Merrill, of Beloit, one of the district secretaries of the Wisconsin Children's Home Society.

He spoke plainly and logically without attempting to bring any influence but that of facts to bear upon his hearers who listened intently to all that he had to say. In introduction of his theme, he said that he considered the caring for the children left destitute in the state the most important of practical Christian duties.

In this state twelve children are left destitute every twenty-four hours. Some are cared for by relatives and others are left for the state to care for. It is a question of prime importance what shall be done with these children, in what way shall they be cared for.

This question resolves itself into what is God's will and how shall man carry out that will. For the answer look to nature. Just as simple as the laws governing the development of a child into a useful man. If a colt or a lamb is left without a mother, another mother is found as speedily as possible to care for the little animal during the short time it needs a mother. The same rule should be followed in caring for motherless children.

A Striking Fact
A striking fact about animals in the short time they are dependent on their mother. With a child it is different. They must have at least from eight to twelve years of care before they can take care of themselves with any show of coming up to a citizenship that shall be a credit to the state.

The fact that a child is helpless so long throws a great burden of responsibility on the people of the state to whom it must look for protection. The people of the state must care for the children who are left homeless. It is a God-appointed necessity that during the early years of its life a child should be cared for by one woman. The answer as to what to do is found in nature and in the divine word. Place the child at once in a home where it will have the care of a loving mother and a restraining father.

To Find Good Homes
This matter of transfer is the whole work of the Children's Home Society. Its mission is to find the good home that is willing to take a child that needs the home and bring the two together. How simple it sounds and yet it is a work of crushing responsibility.

Rev. Merrill told the story of the founding, by an Illinois pastor, of the Children's Home Society, an organization which has grown in twenty-seven states in the union and even spread to the old world. The principle of the society is established in making the transfer as quickly as possible.

This is the sentiment of the state crystallized in a law passed by the recent legislature that no child can remain in the care of an institution under the control of the state for more than sixty days. Last year Rev. Merrill went abroad and studied this question of finding homes for homeless ones in ten different foreign countries. He was present at the conference of charities at the Paris exposition and the sentiment was united on the necessity of placing the child in the home as quickly as possible.

It Defrauds Society
Any other way defrauds. It defrauds the child by depriving it of the home that it needs; it defrauds the family which receives it by depriving the family of the child which it is willing to care for; it defrauds society by lessening the child's chances of becoming a useful member of society; it defrauds the state because it gives the state criminals and dependants instead of upright citizens and because it increases expense; and above all, it defrauds God.

Rev. Merrill told several stories of the good results in individual cases where children had been placed in homes and said there were many instances which serve to encourage the society and show it that it was on the right track. The work makes the workers more loyal citizens of the state because no one can engage in a work which means so much to citizenship without loving the state better than ever before. Church people make a mistake in trying to widen Christianity before they deepen it; in trying to spread it before they intensify it.

Home An Oak Tree
The oak tree of modern society is the home. History shows that where the home has become degraded and home ties have been destroyed, the country has gone steadily downward on the road to ruin. Good citizenship depends on those who have had mothering and fathering in a domestic home. The past year for the society has been a most satisfactory one. Two hundred children were handled and there were over five hundred applications for children. Rev. Merrill's work alone during the year represented a saving of $20,000 in money to the state. There is a present need in the work. The month of July was hot and oppressive and the society had several children on hand which people did not dare to take until cooler weather.

These children had to be cared for by the society. There are now on hand ten or twelve children. It is their cry that the speaker voiced; their appeal that they might find somewhere a lodging place, somewhere a chance in life.

Spirit of Christianity
This is the spirit of American Christianity—to give them a chance in life.

In no other country are homeless children taken into a home except in the capacity of servants. Here they are given the opportunity to rise to the full measure of worth that is in them, no matter what their parentage has been.

At the close of the address, a collection was taken for the current expenses of the society and application cards were distributed for the signatures of any who were willing to give a home to some destitute child. Rev. Merrill described some of the children at present in need of homes and stated that he would be glad to receive applications before this afternoon when he returned to Beloit. He also urged that anyone who knew of families that would be willing to take children to send the names to him.

Weather Reports for Farmers.
Prof. Moore's dream of carrying his daily weather forecasts to the farmers of the country in the traveling postoffice of the rural free delivery system is about to be realized. Very soon after the free delivery system was put in operation Professor Moore saw that it could be utilized to furnish farmers with the same information about the weather that the residents of cities enjoy through reading their morning newspapers. He took up his idea with Postmaster General Smith and the postmaster general discussed it with superintendent Machen of the free delivery service. After weeks of investigation and preparation it has been decided to install the service. The rural carriers will distribute regular forecast cards which undertake to tell what the weather will be for the succeeding twenty-four hours and in addition apparatus that will permit the display of flag signals such as fly from in Chicago. Farmers can tell by merely looking out for the wagon as it travels along the country roads what the forecast is by observing the flags but they will also have the simple and more satisfactory card which states in plain terms what the observers believe. It is a significant fact that the farmers of the country have been demanding that this service be extended them.

MADISON GOLFERS VISIT JANESVILLE

Several members of the Maple Bluff Golf club, of Madison, visited the city yesterday as the guests of the Sunnyside club and spent the day on the links. The Madison gentlemen were much pleased with the course and kept at the game until dark. The turf of the fair green was quite a change to them after playing over a course that is almost devoid of grass.

Dinner and supper was served to the visitors and club members at the club house, G. A. Shurtliff doing the catering. Most of the gentlemen returned home at 9:15 p. m. well pleased with their day's entertainment. The first round of match play in the handicap tournament takes place tomorrow afternoon. In each of the events there will be a handsome cup for the winner and one for the runner up.

The four winners in each class in tomorrow's game will be paired off and will play the semi-finals on Tuesday next, the two winners in each of the semi-final matches will play the finals on the following Tuesday.

Much interest is evidenced by the club members in the outcome of these matches as the handicaps place the players on an equal footing.

He Wanted His Honey.
The Darlington Republican narrates the following good joke on Col. J. F. Wright, the well known commission merchant of Chicago, who used to make regular trips to this section. It appears that the general Colonel is passionately fond of honey and the proprietor of a Mineral Point hotel, at which he used to stop when in that city, always had some on hand for him. On one of his trips he took his wife along and when the train approached Mineral Point he mentioned to her that he was going to a place where he could have honey. When the pair were sitting at the supper table that night no honey was in sight and Col. Wright said sharply to the head waiter, "Where is my honey?" The waiter smiled and said, "You mean the little black haired one? On she don't work here now."

Speaker Wray With Stalwarts.
The most interesting bit of news from the new Stalwart organization is that Speaker George H. Ray of La Crosse, has "joined the band." Mr. Ray is at the sea shore, on the Maine coast, but as he has been heard from. Mr. Ray as speaker of the assembly voted with the LaFollette element all winter, and up to the last vote on the Hagemester substitute, when he took the other side. His open alliance with Stalwart organization now is regarded of special significance and importance. Speaker Ray is serving his fourth term as a member of the assembly and his second term as speaker—Milwaukee Journal.

FIVE HUNDRED FROM FREEPORT

The Celebrated Henney Band Gave an Excellent Concert Yesterday at Crystal Springs.

In spite of the rain which fell in torrents yesterday morning at Freeport as the excursion train pulled out for Janesville, five hundred people made the trip accompanied by the famous Henney band.

The excursionist arrived here about ten o'clock over the North-Western road. The crowd lost no time in making its way to Crystal Springs park. In the afternoon many from Janesville and the surrounding county visited the springs and enjoyed one of the finest concerts of the season. The Henney band, under the leadership of Prof. Robert Gibler, is composed of musicians who are artists and what's more gentlemen. Their program was rendered in a way that proved most enjoyable. Fully one thousand people were on the grounds and that they were well repaid is quite evident if one is to judge from the liberal applause that followed every selection. The day proved to be a most enjoyable outing and at nine o'clock the excursion train pulled out for Freeport.

REAL LIVE BADGER IN BIG DEMAND

"Made a queer discovery this morning" said George W. Bishop of the state board of control at the Pfister hotel to a Sentinel reporter. "I found out the real live badgers are in big demand and that they are hard to get. I'll tell you how it happened. A couple of friends from my home town in Rhineland came to the big city early in the morning to perform a self imposed duty. In a word, the central object of the visit was to purchase a pair of badgers for the State university at Madison. On their way to the hotel they passed a saloon. In the front window of this cafe crouched two beautiful live badgers. They entered and, after partaking of liquid refreshments, asked the proprietor of the place to name his very lowest price for the aforesaid badgers. Imagine their surprise when the tavern keeper informed them they were already sold. It appears that the officers of the battle ship Wisconsin had directed an animal dealer in this city to secure for them a perfectly matched pair of badgers at any cost, and that after a deal of trouble this pair was captured and purchased. It seems that the Wisconsin officers desire to have real badgers on the decks of their magnificent ship. Now, to my mind, the news part of it all is that my friends were told that the real, simon pure badger is disappearing, and that it is difficult to get first-class specimens at any price. I entertain a loyal respect for the State university, and I hope that my friends will finally secure some of the aristocrats of the esteemed badger family for the varsity, but at the same time I want to take off my hat to the officers of the good ship Wisconsin, for their success in landing the aforesaid badgers. It shows that they are not lacking in state pride."

STALWARTS FOR HIGHEST IDEALS; TRIBUTE TO HON. JOHN M. WHITEHEAD

In its introduction to the statement made by the Wisconsin Republican League the Milwaukee Sentinel yesterday paid the following tribute to Senator John M. Whitehead, who was one of the signers on that document:

"It may not be out of place, however, to refer to one man, Senator John M. Whitehead of Janesville, who stood prominent among his colleagues at the last session of the legislature and who was generally acknowledged to be one of the ablest members of that house. Senator Whitehead has long been regarded as a man who stands for the highest ideals, politically and otherwise, and who has the good of the people at heart—a man actuated by principle and not by personal considerations. His remarkable ability was strikingly shown in the closing hours of the last session, when he made a brilliant speech on the primary election bill, in which, although the subject had been discussed for two months and had apparently been exhausted, he brought forward new and convincing arguments, wiped away the accumulated cobwebs of sophistry and cleared hesitating minds of their doubts."

ROCK COUNTY FAIR ON SEPTEMBER 3

Work on the Rock County fair grounds is progressing rapidly and is about complete; there is every reason to expect that all will be in readiness when the gates are thrown open to the public on September 3. The building operations are all complete and the grounds will be well equipped in this respect, much better than before. Horse and cattle sheds, hog and sheep houses, grandstand and floral hall are included in the list, art, horticulture and agricultural hall.

Secretary W. W. Gillies is receiving inquiries every day from all the surrounding country asking for premium lists and entry blanks, and from the interest now shown he looks for very large exhibits. In furniture, dry goods, fancy articles, agricultural implements and other lines there is promise of large and attractive exhibits. Those having charge of the fine art department are interesting women in the exhibit, which promises a display of pictures and fancy work which all citizens may well feel proud of.

Blooded stock will also be in evidence in large numbers, if the promise of large breeders are made good. Of the stockholders a large number are farmers and special effort has been made to secure exhibits from them and for their benefit.

The speed track was never more perfect and in better condition and has been so pronounced by horsemen who have inspected it. The speed events are the same as most of the fair circuits with some valuable additions, including races from 2-year

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight and Tuesday.

The Colored Business Man and their environment as few men have done.

Being a negro, he is in peculiarly advantageous position for reaching conclusions which are not tainted by unconscious prejudice, or distorted by false perspectives. As principal of Tuskegee normal school and industrial school, he has come in contact with his people mentally and physically, has carefully studied them in the classroom or in the fields and workshops of his institution.

This man has founded a National Negro Business League which is to have its second convention in Chicago this month. The object of the league is to inform the world from time to time of the progress being made by the negroes in every part of the world and to stimulate business industry by annual conferences. The movement has attracted considerable attention because it is a fact that the negro is not naturally a business man. As a race they have not shown their aptitude along the line of management.

They have even shown a lack of ability to manage a salary so as to save any considerable part of it. Of course there are exceptions to this statement but there never was a rule made that did not show up exceptions. How much this is due to the negro nature or to his previous condition of servitude, it is hard to tell, but probably both are to blame for a condition that really exists.

The American Indian can never be transformed into a farmer or a merchant although there are individuals who have become wealthy in this avocation, they are conspicuous for their paucity.

There seems to something born and bred in his nature contrary to the spirit of work, so it is to a degree with the negro as we know him in the South, he has for so long a time been a dependent on others for his living, in return for which he gave unwillingly labor and because his income was not in proportion to his energy, he naturally put as little of the latter into his work as possible.

This tendency in his nature has not yet been eliminated, and until it is corrected, successful negro business men will be comparatively few.

Although Southern streets are filled with the idle and lazy negro, in the North and West they are becoming more ambitious and industrious and it would not be long before the race will be judged by the best instead of the worst representatives.

One of the old prominent traits of American life is the fact that those who are able to earn a dollar are generally successful in other lines of activity and are sure to become respected in time. Although the negro race as a whole have not yet emerged from the instinct of dependence yet they are acquiring a higher ideal of manliness and duty, and recognize that worth is the index of character, so that by the help of such men as Booker T. Washington, we expect to see them attain that which every man will respect and no man can take away.

As the great steel strike advances one of attitude cannot help taking notice of the change in attitude of the great steel corporation, which presents a new phase of the steel strike. At first the trust aimed to run union and non-union mills, and endeavored to keep them as such; now the intention seems to be to wipe out the union altogether.

The corporation proposes to keep its doors open at all times to artisans, while the Amalgamated Association is bending every energy to close them to all non-union men. Because of its size the steel corporation stands for the industrial world, and its success or failure in the position taken by capital and labor in the future. So long as the laws of the country are rigidly and impartially enforced the workman will be protected in his rights to work for his living.

It is true on the other hand that the trust is profiting enormously by the skill of trained mechanics and should not try to smother or kill the virility of their manhood or liberty. They cannot suppress the American workman without destroying that which makes him the best and most profitable mechanic in the world today.

If he becomes slavish in his spirit his labor will be slavish and his interest in his employers' behalf will disappear.

If this is to be a strike to the finish it means violence and violence will hurt the cause of labor more than the cause of the trust. So we shall hope for a speedy recovery from present conditions.

Herbert Spencer is frail and broken in health and spirit but continues to send out his protest against the militarism of the age. Perhaps the time will come when the appeals of this man will be looked upon as Nestorian.

If the early educators had given more thought to the education than to the extermination of the Indian, there would have been no "Indian Problem" today.

Cities can advance the cause of municipal aesthetics better by requesting the amount and the character of street advertising and billboards.

It augurs well when business men can come together in regular meetings for the advancement in management of city affairs.

When the members of the Camden (Mo.) brass band were returning to their homes from a practice meeting the other night they were attacked by a panther. At any rate this was the story sent out by telegraph. The panther was doubtless fully justified.—Minneapolis Journal.

MR. W. H. SPOONER DENIES REPORT

W. H. Spooner, of Brooklyn, Wis., who was in the city today and denies the report that he had left Brooklyn without warning. He says that the Brooklyn cheese company of which he was a stockholder and manager, held a meeting on the 10th at which it was decided to settle with creditors and close down the factory. He states that there is probably enough cheese on hand held in cold storage at Lake Mills to pay the major portion of the indebtedness. The company have the right to make an assignment in which case the creditors will be settled with equally. Possibly another meeting will be held to take further action. W. H. Spooner formerly operated a creamery on South River street in this city. He returns to Brooklyn tomorrow.

Travelers to Louisville For K. T. Conclave can get round trip tickets for $8.00 over Pennsylvania Short Lines from Chicago, August 24th to 28th, inclusive. ENJOYED THE TRIP TO CAMP DOUGLAS COMPANY I RETURN HOME AND REPORT A GOOD TIME.

Captain Achterberg Says That His Command is Not the Lowest in Marksmanship—Boys Deeply Impressed with the Flag Presentation on Friday Last.

Saturday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock the members of Company I, First regiment, W. N. G., returned home from eight days of camp life at Camp Douglas. They enjoyed their outing immensely and returned home well pleased. The weather during their week of roughing it was ideal, the nights being cool enough to protect the men from the attacks of the mosquitoes which made life in camp almost unendurable last year. There was only one rain during the week and that was at night. An hour after the sun came up all traces of the storm were gone.

When seen this morning Captain Charles Achterberg said that from a military standpoint the camp this year has been more successful than ever before. The new law requiring each company to be inspected in camp naturally resulted in an extra effort by each company to take as large a representation as possible, especially as the company receives $5 from the state for every member present at inspection, the money to go toward the uniform fund.

Capt. Achterberg had fifty-eight men in camp. He had enrolled a full company of sixty-eight men with the full staff of officers but ten of the men were unable to get away from their work to go to camp.

Capt. Achterberg, regrets deeply the erroneous impression given out that Company I ranked lowest in marksmanship in the regiment. The truth is that the company ranked lowest in the first battalion, which is quite a different matter.

There are only four companies in the battalion, three companies being better in marksmanship than Co. I. Capt. Achterberg says that this is no more than was to be expected as the other three companies were old companies with old men in their ranks while Company I is a new company and at almost the last minute twenty new members had to be taken in to fill up the company. It was only to be expected that they would not shoot as well as veteran companies. "But there were lots worse companies in the first regiment," said Capt. Achterberg, "and I wish that mistake could be corrected in justice to the boys. It is true the company was the worst in the first battalion so far as marksmanship goes but when it comes to the entire regiment there were lots worse than we were."

The members of Co. I, together with all those of the first regiment were deeply impressed with the presentation of the beautiful banner, which was Gov. R. M. La Follette's gift to the regiment. Illness prevented the governor from being present at the presentation which took place on Friday evening at dress parade but the entire staff was present and Capt. Achterberg says that the ceremony was certainly the most impressive and beautiful sight he ever witnessed.

PLAN OF SCHLEY INQUIRY.

Cross-Examination of Admiral Sampson to Be Leading Feature.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Definite information as to the direction the attorneys for Rear Admiral Schley will undertake to give the inquiry to be begun next month has been obtained. The chief purpose of the attorneys will be to adduce testimony that will confirm the general public in its conviction that Schley is the chief hero of Santiago. While the inquiry is nominally for the purpose of discovering the facts, in reality it will be a struggle between Schley and Sampson, each trying to show that the other's conduct in the West Indian campaign was reprehensible. As it has been practically determined that Judge Advocate Lemly will not have assistance with the Sampson side of the cross-examination it is expected to fall far short of the strength shown by the Schley side. Two of Admiral Schley's attorneys are skillful cross-examiners. Judge Wilson, according to the plan now, will conduct the cross-examination of Rear Admiral Sampson. The friends of Admiral Schley ever since he reached the determination to ask for a court of inquiry have laid emphasis upon the fact that the only good he can hope to get out of the inquiry is to convince the public that its conception of his part is the one that is right and proper. In order to accomplish that they will lay great stress on Admiral Sampson's alleged shortcomings. The effort to do this will be made the chief feature of the sharp examination of the witnesses by Judge Advocate Lemly.

NOTABLE REUNIONS OF VETERANS; OLD SOLDIERS TO GATHER HERE

Thirteenth Wisconsin Veterans Volunteer Infantry and the Rock County Ex-Soldiers and Sailors' Union Will Hold Annual Meeting.

Within the coming two weeks this city is to see two notable reunions of veterans of that great army which is fast growing smaller as its heroes who fought side by side in the days of '61 and '65 respond to death's command and one by one drop from the ranks. Though forty years have passed since the civil war, the memories of that fearful struggle are still fresh in the minds of all who participated in it and the survivors of its hardships love nothing quite so well as to get together and live again the scenes in camp, on the march or in the battle's furious charge.

The two reunions by which Janesville is honored this year are the annual meetings of the Thirtieth Wisconsin Veterans Volunteer Infantry and of the Rock County Ex-Soldiers and Sailors' union. Both reunions are to be held in the court house park, where dinner will be served on both occasions by the ladies of W. H. Sargent Woman's Relief Corps, No. 21.

The first of these two reunions will be held on Wednesday of this week, August 21, and will be the reunion of the Thirtieth Wisconsin. This regiment is of special interest to Janesville people because it was a Rock county regiment and many of the young men who enlisted in it were Janesville boys. Before the regiment marched to the front in January, 1861, it was encamped on the fair grounds in this city, then known as Camp Treadway. The regiment left this city under charge of Colonel Maloney and he in turn was succeeded by Col. Ryan, who for many years, in later life, was chief justice of the supreme court of the state.

It is the regiment to which William Ruger, Edward Ruger, F. F. Stevens and Pliny Norcross, among others from this city belonged.

About 100 Will Attend
The annual reunions are usually attended by about one hundred of the surviving members of the regiment and the customary number is expected on Wednesday. The usual order of proceedings will be observed. The morning will be devoted to exchanging greetings as the old comrades gather at the meeting place and at 12 o'clock all will sit down to the dinner prepared by the Ladies Relief Corps, the dinner to be served in the Court House park. After dinner there will be the business meeting and the program of addresses by members of the regiment who are present. Captain, Pliny

Norcross, who is president of the organization will have charge of the exercises and an interesting feature will be the annual report of the faithful and efficient secretary, W. P. P. Clarke, of Milton. The program is always an informal one and no one can ever tell beforehand quite what form it will take. The program depends largely on the men who are able to be present and any member who has a word of cheer or an interesting reminiscence is a welcome addition to the program.

Rock County Ex-Soldiers.
While the reunion of the Thirtieth will be a veritable love feast and a delightful occasion for its members, the reunion to be held next week Thursday, August 29, by the Rock County Ex-Soldiers and Sailors' Union will be a more notable one. It will have a much broader interest because in connection with the reunion, the corner stone of the new monument being erected in the park to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of Rock county will be laid, with appropriate ceremonies. Senator J. M. Whitehead has been asked to deliver the address at the laying of the corner stone and he has accepted the honor and the duty. A complete program of the order of exercises for the day will be published in the near future but the following order, issued by the officers of the organization, gives an adequate idea of the good things in store in connection with the reunion.

General Order No. 1.
"It is expected that Albert Salisbury, president of the Whitewater Normal school; Col. A. G. Weissert, of Milwaukee; Col. A. H. DeGroff, department commander; Col. E. B. Gray, of Madison; Dr. J. B. Whiting, of Janesville, and other prominent G. A. R. men will be present and deliver addresses. Col. E. O. Kimberley and other singers will sing some choice patriotic songs. The G. A. R. drum corps will have charge of the martial music.

"The public exercises will begin at two o'clock p. m. with the laying of the corner stone of the Rock County Soldiers and Sailors' monument in the park in front of the court house, with appropriate ceremonies. Address by Senator J. M. Whitehead. A business meeting will be held at Post hall on West Milwaukee street at 10:30 a. m.

"The ladies of the Women's Relief Corps will serve dinner in the Court House Park at 12 m. All ex-soldiers and sailors and the public are cordially invited to be present at all of the exercises."

CROWD REMAINED LATE.

Victor and Monarch Machines Proved Great Drawing Cards.

In front of the H. F. Nott music store, South Main street, a crowd that filled the walk remained till the 11 o'clock hour Saturday night listening to several selections rendered by the famous Victor and Monarch machines. The musical instruments derive their origin from the gramophone. Perfect in construction and tone are these machines. They are not expensive. Prices range from $12 to $40. The records that are used are strongly made and will last for years. These records sell at $3 per dozen and include all the latest vocal and musical selections as well as recitations and famous speeches. A machine sold by Mr. Nott to a family residing in the Kenilworth block also formed amusement to many pedestrians. Mr. Nott was in Chicago last week and while there purchased several of the Victor and Monarch machines that are now on exhibition at the South Main street music store.

THE WELL DRESSED MAN.

No Secret About Who is Doing the Tailoring Business Here.

There is no secret about the fact that the tailoring business of Janesville this fall will be handled by the firm of McDaniels & Achterberg. And one does not wonder when here is to be found a selection of fall suitings, overcoatings and trousers second to none in the state with Milwaukee tailors included. Last week a large shipment of woolsens was received, and are now ready for inspection. This spring the well dressed man about town favored McDaniels & Achterberg with his order; it is safe to say that this same man will be a customer of theirs for his fall suit. Cutters and tailors that know their business are only employed. No piece of clothing leaves their shop until fully sanctioned by the buyer. Particular pains are taken to please. The most complete gents' furnishing stock in town is also carried in connection. The firm of McDaniels & Achterberg is composed of young men who are popular with the masses. Since locating in Janesville they have done the tailoring business of the town. A host of friends join in wishing them continued success.

Nelsons of $25 in the Fourth Ward park on the morning of July 4th, was taken up in the municipal court this morning. District Attorney Jackson appeared for the state and J. L. Mahoney for Dougherty and William Ruger, Jr., appeared for O'Rourke. The entire morning was spent in trying to get a jury. Shortly before twelve the panel was exhausted, and a special venire for three more jurors returnable at two o'clock was issued by Judge Fifield.

NEW SALTING-PROCESS

But Few People Know What Good Salted Peanuts Taste Like

"I think it is safe to state that but few people in Janesville realize how delicious good salted peanuts taste," said a Third ward lady as she emerged from the Palace of Sweets restaurant, on the bridge. "At the Palace of Sweets they salt their own peanuts and take extra good care of every pound salted. They salt peanuts daily. In no way are they like the kind you buy in grocery stores."

J. O. KIRKPATRICK WAS DISCHARGED

Judge Fifield Hold the Charge Was Not Proven—Outcome Pleased the Young Man.

J. Oscar Kirkpatrick, the young man arrested at Watertown, S. D., on charge of being the person that robbed the safe in the office of Dr. Mills, on the evening of August 6, and brought back for trial, was discharged this morning by Judge Fifield, the municipal court judge.

The case was called at nine o'clock and the judge in rendering his decision stated: "I have thought over the evidence in this case pretty carefully, and while the state has proved that there has been a crime committed, it is also necessary for the state to prove that there is reasonable and probable cause to believe the defendant guilty."

"In this case, from the circumstances and the evidence which I have been able to ascertain, the discovery of the crime and the circumstances surrounding it would indicate to anyone that it was done by someone who had some knowledge of the interior of the office of Dr. Mills. The only one that had the knowledge apparently was the defendant and the circumstances without any explanatory testimony would certainly point to the defendant as having been guilty of the crime. That is the reason why the complaint was issued and the defendant brought back here for examination."

"On the examination the defendant has accounted for his time and presence and has disproved in the evidence his connection with the crime, so far as the evidence goes to my satisfaction. On the evidence, I hold; it has not been proved that there is reasonable and probable cause to believe the defendant guilty of the crime and he is therefore discharged."

Kirkpatrick did not betray any emotion over the outcome of the trial but rather acted as a man that knew he was innocent and expected to be acquitted. After shaking hands with one or two acquaintances he left the court room with his attorneys, C. E. Pierce and H. L. Maxwell.

He felt very well over the outcome of the trial and did not think he would be held for trial. He is also extremely angry at Dr. Mills for making the complaint against him and having him brought back from Dakota on such a slim line of evidence. He will return at once to Watertown and leaves tonight at 9:15. He has secured a position in Watertown and will go to work as soon as he gets back.

While You Sleep Your Profits Go On

While this is said of farming it is equally true of Life Insurance. If you invest money in a policy in the Aetna Life Insurance Company, this old saying will apply just as forcibly as it will about farming. If you are not in line for life or endowment, you may be for accident or health insurance. The Aetna Life is the largest company in the world writing these four branches of insurance. WE'D MET BEFORE.

By ELIZABETH FRY PAGE.

At a garden party at the country home of Mrs. Alton Alston I met a very striking woman. There was something strangely familiar to me about her eyes, but all else was so strange that I decided that they only reminded me of the sparkling orbs of some one whom I had known, for I pride myself upon my memory of faces, figures, walks, voices, etc., and though I had not yet heard her speak I was convinced that she was a total stranger, as I never could have forgotten that superb creature—never in the world.

Then I turned to my companion and, indicating my charmer, asked: "Who is that magnificent looking woman? She is decidedly the beauty of this gathering of beautiful women."

"Why, that is Mrs. Phillips," she said, raising her lorgnette and looking toward her. "You must meet her by all means. She is undoubtedly looking her best this afternoon, but, my dear—ah, she is coming toward us." And so she was. My heart beat a little faster at the prospect of meeting the object of my admiration.

Introductions over, she seated herself comfortably for a little chat, and my elderly friend, seeing me in good hands, left us. We were chatting away in the most delightful fashion when suddenly she paused and, looking critically at me, said in her refined and agreeable tones: "Do you know, I believe I have met you before. There is something very familiar about your face, your voice and your laughter. It worries me. I never fail to remember any one."

I told her that I felt the same way with regard to her, but I was positive we hadn't met and had decided that she only reminded me forcibly of some one else. "Perhaps that is it," she said, "though I'm not quite satisfied. Perhaps we have met in some other state of existence."

The afternoon passed pleasantly, and as we went bowling home in the twilight the face, voice, figure and name of Mrs. Phillips haunted me. That night I dreamed that we had been children together and had waded ankle deep in clear, running water, and I awoke more puzzled than ever.

Several days passed, and one hot afternoon I made myself comfortable, as to apparel, for a siesta, but went wandering about the house, pillow in hand, looking for a cool spot, and finally landed on a cot in my sister's room.

"Warm, isn't it?" she said.

"Well, I should say so," I replied. "My room is like the hot room in a Russian bathhouse." At these words I jumped up and began dancing an Indian ghost dance about the room, chanting gleefully, "I know now, I know now. Who would have thought it?" then going off into shrieks of laughter.

My sister looked almost frightened and called out: "Well, for mercy's sake, what's the matter? Stop that nonsense and let me into the fun."

"Do you remember my beautiful Mrs. Phillips whom I met at Alston's garden party? Well, I had met her before and I've just remembered where. You know last winter when I had grip so badly and some one advised me to go to the Russian bath and sweat the cold out? Ha, ha! It's too ridiculous. I was lying in my steamer chair, with my feet in a bucket of hot water, my sheet wrapped gracefully around me and a cold compress on my head, when I walked a figure that made me smile, even under those circumstances. She stood in the door and viewed the landscape, o'er, and I took her in. Thin brown hair, straight as a yardstick and drawn up on top of her head in a little knot about the size of a hickory nut, sallow complexion, long, bony frame, flat chest and the ugliest feet I ever saw. The only redeeming thing about her was her fine brown eyes, and when she spoke her voice was melodious, refined and magnetic.

"The chair next me was the only vacant one, so she took possession of it and then called to the attendant, 'Sarah, bring me a cup of hot water to drink.' 'Here you are, Mrs. Phillips,' she replied as she returned with it.

"As we lay there trying in every way to induce a perspiration we exchanged views on many subjects, from the efficacy of the Russian bath to literature, music and art. I found her charming and thought what a shame it was that she was not more attractive physically and looked with some pardonable vanity at my white, smooth skin and plump proportions. She, being accustomed to the baths, progressed rapidly from room to room, and I never saw her again until we met 'clothed and in our right minds' at the garden party, where I was the unattractive chrysalis, she the gorgeous butterfly.

"Talk about artists! I shall take off my hat to every milliner's sign I see hereafter, and when I pass the counters in the dry goods stores where various wire and other aids to feminine perfection of form are kept I shall reverently bow the knee. Here's to beautiful Mrs. Phillips."—Sunny South.

The Word "Which."

A certain editor is possessed by a curious antipathy to the use of the word "which" when it can be avoided, and he frequently urges his contributors to say "that" instead when it is possible. The other day one of these contributors took up the cudgels on behalf of the abused word, but at the end of a heated discussion the editor found a new argument and silenced him. "Come, now. Would you use it, unless by stress of unavoidable circumstance, if you were writing verses?" The contributor reflected, and, after all, you would not willingly say even, "This is the house 'which' Jack built."—London Post.

BATTLED WITH A RATTLER.

Government Official Finally Escaped from the Reptile's Fangs.

Among the curious souvenirs and relics from the plain and forest, mountain top and canyon, which lend themselves to the decoration of the room occupied by Henry C. Rizer, chief clerk of the geological survey, is the dressed skin of a rattlesnake. This rattler's claim to fame is that he sought to create a vacancy in the survey. He failed to do this, but he did what he could. He died in the attempt. The incident in which this particular snake figured occurred when a force from the geological survey was engaged in making a survey of Indian territory at the instance of the general land office. That was several years ago. One of the surveying parties was at work in a section of the territory in which rattlers were numerous. Calculation was made by a member of the party that if the ratio of rattlers to the area assigned to him were applied to the area of the whole territory the rattler population of the Indian territory was 3,000 snakes to the square mile. This man, in the course of his work, sprang across a tiny stream one day, and striking the other side of it planted one foot directly upon the neck of a six-foot rattler. It was an accident, the man not having seen the snake, and not having designed to disturb it. It was also a fortunate accident so far as the man was concerned, that he landed on the neck of the snake. It is said that the rattler was visibly affected and that his emotions took on an angry turn. He writhed and buzzed and strained in his efforts to coil into an attitude in which he might strike. He made, it is said, heroic efforts anyway to bite his oppressor. The trespasser dared not move, but called for help. A co-worker came to his aid bringing an ax and with this weapon the snake's head was severed. The skin was dressed and presented to Mr. Rizer. It is now stretched on the mantel of the office of the chief clerk.—Washington Star.

Finds Blacksnake in Pocket.

Moundsville, W. Va., Aug. 19.—The prize snake story of the year from the home market is related by Justice of the Peace Samuel Dorsey of Fairview, this county. The justice declares that he is willing to make oath to the truth of the following statement, honestly rendered. He was called to an upstairs room where his wife was engaged in housecleaning. She had opened a wardrobe, in which was hanging some of the squire's old clothes. From the pockets of a pair of trousers a huge blacksnake was thrusting its head. The squire drew it forth and after killing it found it measured three feet eight inches.

Gives $50,000 to University.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 19.—James Milliken, president of the Milliken National bank of this city, has given to the treasurer of the Lincoln university at Lincoln, Ill., $50,000, which was promised by him provided the people of Lincoln would raise $25,000. The Lincoln people have complied with their end of the agreement. The Lincoln university is to be combined with the industrial college, which is to be established here by Mr. Milliken and the two institutions will be known as the James Milliken university.

Quality Folks.

Since bacteriologists have attributed the dissemination of yellow fever in Cuba, and of the deadly malaria in Italy, to the mosquito, that creature has emerged from the general host of insects into a place of individual importance. For other reasons than these, however, an old Cornish woman lately pronounced upon the mosquito's aristocracy. She had asked her parish priest to read to her a letter from her son in Brazil. The writer's orography was doubtful, but the vicar did his best to read phonetically. "I cannot tell you how the muskitties torment me. They pursue me everywhere—even down the chimney!" The fond mother's eyes grew large with mingled pride and amazement. "Ezekiel must be rare handsome," she said, "for the maidens to be so after him. And I reckon the Miss Kitties is quality folks, too!"

New Parlor Cars.

Two parlor cars, named respectively "Janesville" and "Beloit," "spick and span new" from the builders have been received from the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and will be placed at once in the service for which they were expressly built—between Chicago, Janesville and Madison.

The new cars have an interior finish of mahogany and are seventy-five feet in length. The exterior is the St. Paul standard color. In addition to the usual parlor, seating thirty people, each has a large observation room, a state room and buffet. The latter, besides being fitted for ordinary buffet service, is equipped with a broiler, from which steaks, chops, etc., can be served.

The equipment in service on the St. Paul road to and from Southern Wisconsin points has received many favorable comments. The new cars—the handsomest so far built—will complete the finest day trains leaving Chicago.

Sunlight Beats Electricity.

Dr. Niels Finlen, of Copenhagen, the discoverer of the new medicinal rays, is a young man, shy, slender, but full of enthusiasm. He says sunlight will do more good in the end than any adaptation of electricity.

Decay Infects Good Lumber.

Experienced lumbermen say that in the process of seasoning wood should be occasionally repiled and decayed or defective pieces removed, lest they infect the others.

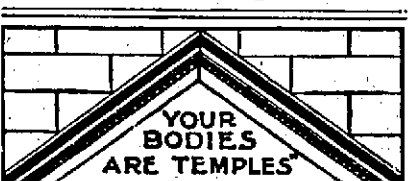

GAY AND LOUD WEDDING.

Kar-Splitting Music Accompanied the Wedding Marches in Morocco.

Weddings in Morocco are evening functions, never take place in the blaze of noon. A procession, the longer the better, is a sine qua non. The lady is nearly enveloped in gauze and muslin, and packed into a trim little red box, just as if she were an automatic doll or the newest thing in hats, so that she can no more be seen than a diamond wrapped up in wadding and shut in a casket. The box is fastened on the back of a mule or a horse, and when these details are satisfactorily settled the procession starts. All her kith and kin, as well as the relatives and friends of her future lord, ride in state or solemnly march on foot to the sounds of weird music which would madden a European. The instruments are ear-splitting. But the vocal sounds uttered by the women folk, by way of wishing the couple good luck, are simply soul-scathing. The loo-loo-loo, lee-lee-lee, shrieked out with shrill voices are as terrible as Kaffir women for the dead. And if the family have a proper sense of what they owe themselves, they are not satisfied with even this, but invest in gunpowder, and keep firing all the way to the bridegroom's house.

Our New Slang Phrase.

The national capital is delighted with a new slang phrase. When anything from the line of a golf link to the fit of a dinner gown is all right it is, in the terms of the new slang, "all sheeky." Everybody uses it. Today the dignified secretary of war, who has some boys of his own, didn't catch himself before he said something or other was "all sheeky."

You believe that statement. But you only realize in part the obligations implied by it. Do you keep that temple of the body clean? If not, the defilement attaches to every service of the temple. Disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, affects the mind as well as the body. The dull mind stupefied by poisonous gases, enters on its service without desire, and accomplishes it without delight. A healthy body and a clear mind result from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It removes the clogging and poisonous impurities from the stomach, stimulates the flow of the juices necessary to digestion and increases the blood supply in quality and quantity. The "Discovery" is strictly a temperance medicine and contains no alcohol or whisky, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotic.

It had suffered from indigestion and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is," writes Mrs. M. J. Pagan, of 103 East Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y. "I had had severe attacks of headache and dizziness with cold hands and feet; everything I ate distressed me, bowels were constipated and I was growing very thin and nervous. I cannot half express the bad feelings I had when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took nine bottles of the 'Discovery.' I commenced feeling better with the first bottle and kept on improving. Now I am so greatly improved in health my friends often speak of it."

The Oldest and Best.

S. S. S. is a combination of roots and herbs of great curative powers, and when taken into the circulation searches out and removes all manner of poisons from the blood, without the least shock or harm to the system. On the contrary, the general health begins to improve from the first dose, for S. S. S. is not only a blood purifier, but an excellent tonic, and strengthens and builds up the constitution while purging the blood of impurities. S. S. S. cures all diseases of a blood poison origin, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Herpes and similar troubles, and is an infallible cure and the only antidote for that most horrible disease, Contagious Blood Poison.

A record of nearly fifty years of successful cures is a record to be proud of. S. S. S. is more popular today than ever. It numbers its friends by the thousands. Our medical correspondence is larger than ever in the history of the medicine. Many write to thank us for the great good S. S. S. has done them, while others are seeking advice about their cases. All letters receive prompt and careful attention. Our physicians have made a life-long study of Blood and Skin Diseases, and better understand such cases than the ordinary practitioner who makes a specialty of no one disease.

We are doing great good to suffering humanity through our consulting department, and invite you to write us if you have any blood or skin trouble. We make no charge whatever for this service.

WILL RECLAIM ARID LAND.

Great Projects of Irrigation Are on Foot in Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 19.—A project is on foot for the reclamation of 140,000 acres of government land in the northern part of Yuma county in Arizona, along the California-Arizona boundary line. The project is one of the most ambitious irrigation schemes that has yet come to light in this country and is being financed by southern Arizona and California capitalists. Intending settlers will co-operate with the canal company, thus greatly lessening the burden of expense in the enormous enterprise. The company has filed upon nearly 150,000 acres of government domain and in addition to that it is negotiating for the purchase of 50,000 acres from what is known as the Blythe estate. Most of this land is a barren desert, which, however, can be made to bloom and become highly fertile and productive when liberally watered. The cost of the canal system including a dam across the Colorado river, will not be less than $1,000,000, and it is said that the amount involved in the purchase of the Blythe estate approximates $250,000. Plans are being carried out also for the reclamation of a vast desert surrounding the cultivated area around this city. Dr. A. J. Chandler, an Iowa capitalist, is spending thousands of dollars in this work and has already developed an important water supply.

SPENDS FORTUNE ON TOWN.

President of Diamond Match Company Gives Riches to Barborton, Ohio.

Akron, O., Aug. 19.—O. C. Barber, president of the Diamond Match company, has announced two plans which he proposed to carry out for the benefit of the town of Barborton, which he founded ten years ago. One of them includes the gift of a park of 200 acres, largely of natural woodland. This park adjoins the grounds of the magnificent estate which he is preparing to establish on the edge of town. On the park he will expend many thousands of dollars, making the entire gift worth about $100,000. Mr. Barber is ready to begin the erection of a mansion costing $125,000 and this he intends to leave at his death for a public hospital. The mansion will also be surrounded by a magnificent park of 150 acres. Mr. Barber has plans for a model residence section, which will provide homes for hundreds of workmen. These houses will be just outside the public and private park, both of which will be devoted to pleasure-grounds. He expects to devote the largest portion of his fortune for the benefit of the town bearing his name and its people.

S. E. Phillips and family left today for North Adams, Mass., where they will visit relatives and friends for three weeks.
